

Join the Revolution

REVUP
t h

Energize. Forward. Thinking.

Weynand Training International has been on the cutting edge of technology for over 25 years. With each new video industry

software release

or

equipment upgrade

, Weynand Training has taken the lead to provide quality training via on-site consultations, in-class course delivery, and of course through the Apple certified courses we author. We have had a long,

successful career

and we value that

history

and the

relationships

we've built along the way.

But there is a revolution going on. We didn't start the revolution, but we're joining it! As we look at the changing tides in both the entertainment industry and technology, we've decided to take a giant leap forward. The new energy that our mobile app development and custom online training has created over the past two years is expanding our reach beyond the four walls of a classroom educational environment in the direction of helping others create, produce, and deliver their own content using our mobile apps and eLearning solutions. In fact, we are so energized and revved up that we are making a formal change in our company title.

We are pleased to announce that Weynand Training International is becoming Rev Up Tech.

Create. Produce. Deliver.

While we continue to create customized on-site training and produce our own in-class courses, Rev Up Transmedia will also develop mobile and e-Learning solutions for any educational or marketing content. Our apps and services will support you or your customers in the field, on the go, in the office or edit bay, and across the table from a client as you deliver your marketing presentation or record an interview. Today, every company in every market needs to rev up their content or deliver it in a new way. Rev Up Tech is ready to lead and guide you along the way.

At Rev Up, we create blended and seamlessly integrated eLearning solutions delivering relevant content which educates and engages our clients workforce to provide a 'just in time' competitive advantage in their marketplace where, when and how they need it.
